Thank you Mr. Tampa for responding. I was informed that the sign was city's but installed by other simply from the picture of the post base in the concrete. Those are not unistrut footing that our crew normally used to install city signs. Please check with your source to see if you can have your contractor to reinstall the sign and post. But if there is a written agreement that future reinstallation is done by city crew, then I will be happy to direct you to the right people to get it done. Thank you and hear from you soon.

Yes it appears the sign was damaged by a hit and run driver. Because it's so large, we transported the pole and attached signs to our Field Office.

We were trying to find out who to call to have it reinstalled and now we have your email .
Tell how to proceed please.

Thank you

Hello Mr. Tampa / Ms. Sanchez,
Below please find downed sign and post discovered by one of my staff. It was located at 1020 Los Angeles St. I have been trying to track down ownership of this sign and post. I learned that it was not installed by the city. I also learned that the sign and post is no longer laying in the street as of Nov. 4th. Do you have any insight to the sign/post in question?? Please advise. Thank you.
